I am disappointed in everyone.

Present company excluded, of course.

I turn the page after 4 lines and I pause to think to think about what comes next and you think perhaps its for dramatic effect but no

there's six whole ass stanzas here that makes no sense and I can't bare to look at them

33 lines that that I can't read
I don't
I don't remember what they were supposed to say except for when the disordered letters come back at night and the words creep in to place then skitter away in the mourning beyond the haze of conscious thought sometimes theyll come out of nowhere and stop me dead in my rolling spinning office chair and id love to say that talking to someone or writing has helped so i do i say it but im not sure its true still i keep trying and i appreciate the

Hey Prof,
I'd really appreciate an extension on the assignment that's due tomorrow.
I'm sorry about this. I'm not feeling very good, and I'm struggling to get the work done.
I'm just hoping this will pass quickly.

Thanks for your time,
